Twilight on the Millikin campus

Millikin's small 40-acre campus is one of the most beautiful university settings in the state of Illinois. Three of the original structures, the Liberal Arts Hall, East Hall and West Hall, remain a distinct landmark and the towers of L.A. are one of the most recognizable sights in all of Decatur. The historical tradition of the campus was always a major concern through periods of expansion and reconstruction. The newer buildings, the modern structures, were carefully designed so as not to detract from the feeling and tradition felt while touring this small but very lovely campus.

HISTORY OF BIG BLUE

Some of the most popular questions heard on campus today concern the origin of the nickname, the Big Blue. You can always hear curious students inquiring, "What is a Big Blue?" "What does Big Blue mean?" "A Big Blue what?"

The legend of the Big Blue dates back to the 1916 Millikin football team and Dr. Carl Head. 1916 marked the first undefeated season ever for the M.U. gridiron heroes, and the only blemish on its otherwise spotless record was a season opening tie with the University of Missouri — Rolla. To publicize this outstanding display of athletic prowess, Head, according to Calvin E. (Fuzzy) Sutherd, "used a picture of the 1916 team and lettered up a card about 16 by 30 inches. He made several blue prints of the card to be placed downtown in the stores. On it he had lettered 'The Big Blue'." The catchy title became well known throughout Decatur, and Millikin athletic teams have been nicknamed the Big Blue ever since.

ACADEMICS

James Millikin, the founding father of James Millikin University and Decatur's wealthiest citizen in the late 1890's sought the establishment of an institution of higher education as the means by which to make a noble public gesture.

Millikin held that education to meet the demands of an ever increasing industrialized society should include both professional and practical learning along with the traditional liberal arts fields. Thus made legal stipulations concerning the institution he was responsible for founding. His first requirement was that this university be one "where the scientific, the practical and the industrial shall have a place of equal importance, side by side, with the literary and the classical." He also stressed that "the policy of the school would not narrowly be 'sectarian' and it should be conducted on a broad plane in which all will be treated alike, regardless of sect or creed." From such visions and dreams of one man, Millikin University was established.

Today, Millikin offers five undergraduate degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences, the Tabor School of Business and Engineering, the College of Fine Arts and the School of Nursing.

Approximately 1500 students are now enrolled in the university's four year program. The 1984-85 academic season welcomed the largest freshman class in the school's illustrious history.

The university is constantly changing and growing to meet the ever increasing demands of the diverse student body. Staley Library, a thoroughly modern structure, was completed in 1977-78 to replace the outdated Gorin facility. Staley currently contains not only 160,000 volumes, but also houses a media center, a writing center, audio-visual classrooms, a 24 hour study area, a working darkroom, study carols and lounges, a computer center is located in Lower L.A.

ACTIVITIES

Millikin offers a wide range of co/extra-curricular activities to both teach and provide sheer enjoyment. Every year during the Christmas season, the faculty group together to serenade the students who are bogged down with final exam preparations and thoughts of journeying home for the semester break.

Both men and women are eligible to attend cheerleading tryouts to be those selected to cheer the Big Blue on to athletic success. Students are also able to belong to both professional fraternities and Greek social fraternities any number of clubs and organizations and even the Big Blue pep band.

SPORTS

Sports have been an integral part of Millikin life since the doors opened in the fall of 1903 . . . well, almost. Football, the pioneer in M.U. Inter-Collegiate Athletics, officially started the day after the school opened for the very first term.

Dr. Charles A. Meserve, after complaining about a great lack of "college spirit", was responsible for not only assembling the first football roster, but also the formation of the Athletic Association. During that same winter, Professor Bailey led a squad of young men through the rigors of basketball practice in what is now the second floor of the Mueller Industrial Laboratory. Millikin had no floor to call its own until the Old Gym was constructed to mark the opening of the 1912 season.

Track and baseball were implemented in the spring of 1904, and, like the basketball team, suffered due to a lack of proper facilities. Tennis was first played in 1906. Golf and swimming appeared on the sports horizon in 1926-27, but only in a very limited capacity. Golf became an M.U. standard in 1939, but swimming was dropped from 1933 until 1970-71, when the new pool in Griswold Center opened.

Women started adding to the athletic tradition in May, 1917 by participating in the Millikin Women's Invitational tennis tournament (now called the Dorothy McClure Memorial Tournament). However, intercollegiate competition and regularly scheduled events did not occur for women until 1970.

Basketball led the women's sports expansion in 1970-71, and volleyball and track followed in 1975-76. In 1982 Millikin added three more sports for women: cross country, swimming and softball.

FINE ARTS

Millikin offers one of the most spectacular University Concert/Lively Arts Series of any educational institution of comparable size in the nation. The series has drawn such stars as Chuck Mangione, The Pointer Sisters, Cicely Tyson and Doc Severson to name but a few.

M.U. also features faculty concerts, student recitals, theatrical productions, several university choral groups, bands, an orchestra, a marching band and flag corps and one of the top jazz bands in the United States.

Most of the fine arts productions are performed in the Kirkland Fine Arts Center, a modern 2000-seat theatre. Kirkland also sponsors art shows in its galleries. The art work can be student, faculty, or even the work of a noted professional.

Millikin has much to offer in fine arts for both the performer and the viewer alike.

PEOPLE

Students and faculty are Millikin's finest asset. They come from all over the United States and even foreign countries to share in the unique educational and social atmosphere that can be found at James Millikin University. The people that make up this university are as diverse and different as the various towns and cities they hail from, but they have the uncanny ability to pull together and strive towards a common goal, and be part of a dynamic educational community characterized by students, faculty and staff, simply as friendly.

The human aspect is vital in international and national relations. The same holds true for Millikin. It is the warmth, the caring, the sharing and personal concern displayed by students and professors, that distinguishes Millikin University and sets it apart from other colleges and universities. Millikin is unique and it owes its strong individuality to its people.

PRESIDENT REAGAN VISITS MILLIKIN

President Ronald W. Reagan stopped at Millikin in August while on the campaign trail to hold a mini-conference on agriculture. The event was organized as a typically academic forum where topic of the day centered around agribusiness. The topic chosen was very fitting as Decatur is a major Midwestern agricultural center.

Reagan's speech not only touched on the agricultural issues of the day, but also involved a series of boyhood recollections and humorous anecdotes. One such anecdote described a trip Reagan and the football squad from Eureka College made to Decatur 55 years ago to receive a 45-6 thrashing from the Millikin gridiron heroes.

Reagan closed his speech by saying, "I thank you for your kindness and I thank you more than anything because whether you realize it or not, you are the ones that brought about this return to the America we all know and remember so well. Not the America of the doomcriers."

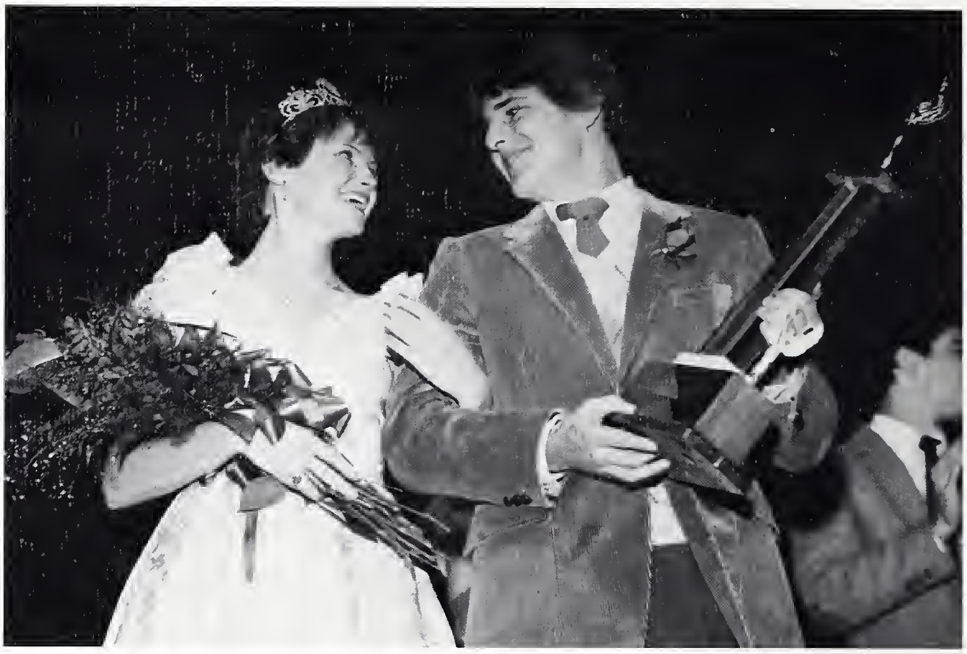
HOMECOMING '84



Homecoming Queen Angie Sparks and King Kent Dixon

Angie Sparks and Kent Dixion were crowned as the Homecoming Queen and King during the coronation ceremony on Friday night that was highlighted by a performance of the jazz band under the direction of Roger Schueler.

A driving rain cancelled the performance of the alumni marching band and the Big Blue lost the gridiron battle to eventual national champion Augustana. The Marching Big Blue were honored at a reunion luncheon. Those attending represented different classes from 1929 to 1984.

Approximately 30 alumni, students and faculty members participated in the third annual road race, a three-mile course, and a one-mile fun run.

RHA WEEK

The Residence Hall Association sponsored a week-long festival that was for the benefit of students living in either the University residence halls or in one of the many auxiliary and honors houses. The week's activities included a volleyball tournament for the women, a basketball tourney for the men and the ever popular roommate game, a spin-off of the television game show "The Newlywed Game". There were also other games and a pyramid building contest.

Dawn Rabe puzzles over a question during the roommate game.

Ed Walker fires over the pass rush

Kevin Crandall, an offensive guard, was named as the most valuable member of the 1984 football team that was ranked as high as 13th in the country and lost its only game to undefeated Auguatana on a mud laden field on Homecoming day. The Big Blue accumulated an overall season mark of 8-1. Crandall was the first offensive lineman in twenty years to earn most valuable honors. Crandall was also a co-captain, first team all College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin selection and Millikin's most valuable offensive lineman. Tom Kreller was named as the squad's most valuable offensive back, Deverick Lampley, most valuable receiver, Tony Klien, most valuable defensive lineman, Cary Bottorff, most valuable linebacker and Mark Coglianese was named the most valuable defensive back.

Other first team all-conference players include Kreller, Klien, Coglianese, Robin Wall, James White and Brad Kay. Second team selections are Lampley, Scott Talbott, Ken Hatcher, P.J. Wilkes, Marc Daniels and Jim Fishel.

Crandall, White, Wilkes and Ed Walker served as the team's co-captains.

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Tonyan Goin came back from an illness that sidelined her throughout the 1983 season to capture most valuable honors on the women's cross country team. She was also an MVP in 1982.

Goin established herself as the Big Blue's top runner midway into the season and narrowly missed securing a new Millikin record. Angie Sparks was the squad's most improved runner.

The team won the Danville Invitational, were runners-up in the Millikin Classic and finished ninth in the 16-team Washington University meet.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

The race is on

The 15-member men's cross country squad was probably the largest ever to run for the Big Blue. Five returning letterwinners, Curt Stiner, Greg Crull, Dan Claahsen, Mike Lentz and Alan Singleton paced the team that was mostly comprised of freshmen. Other runners included Eric Waller, Tim Cramer, Jim Frank, Frankie Jackson, Frank Martin, Russ Morrison, Mike O'Brien, Chris Piety, Norm Rokosz and Scott Woodruff.

O'Brien earned honors as the most valuable performer and Martin was marked as the most improved. Crull and Stiner served as co-captains.

Kooi established a new Big Blue standard for career victories and was presented with a special leadership award. Lewis was named as the most improved wrestler and will serve as a tri-captain of the 1985-86 team Crandall and Mike Taylor.

Kevin Doyle and Joe Burke finished third and fourth in their respective weight classes at the CCIW meet and Millikin took third plce overall. The Big Blue finished with a 7-6 mark in dual meets and placed among the team leaders at four major tournaments.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The women's basketball team enjoyed the finest season ever by any Millikin athletic squad. The women's third place finish in the NCAA Division III National Tournament is the highest placing for any Big Blue team.

Millikin lost to Scranton in the semifinals but bounced back to defeat St. Norbert 76-73 to grab the third place honors. Scranton eventually won the tournament.

Several team records fell throughout the season, but the one that may be most remembered was the 21 consecutive free throws made by Lori Kerans. Kerans sank 19 of these charity tosses in tournament action. She canned two free throws with two seconds showing on the clock to give Millikin a slim 67-66 victory over William Penn in the finals of the Central Regional. Kerans also sank two more from the stripe with three seconds left to lift the Big Blue to an 80-79 win over defending champions Rust in the quarterfinals.

Kerans was voted as the squad's most valuable hoopster, the outstanding player in the Central Regional and was named to the five-member national all-tournament team.

Kerans led the Big Blue with a 15-0 scoring average and was closely followed by Michelle Mariage, 13.2 and Tonda Logue, 13.0. Terri Jones had a scoring average of 11.1 and led Millikin in rebounding with an average of 8.6.

Stacy McLaughlin had a rebounding average of 7.9 and Mariage managed 6.2.

By the end of the season, only 10 men remained on the roster and five of these 10 were in either their first or second year with the team.

Freshman Bart Barnes of Girard was voted as the most valuable player for leading the Blue in scoring and rebounding. Dave Wertley was the assit. leader & Craig Webb held the honor as the top shooter from the free throw line.

Mickey Sullivan led the squad in FG % and was voted captain of the 1985-86 squad.

Metropolitan. The only insurance companies you may ever need.

It's not uncommon for one family to have a variety of insurance policies from a variety of insurance companies.

But there is an alternative. You can satisfy your insurance needs through one source: Metropolitan Insurance Companies.

Presently, we are protecting 47 million people not only with life insurance but also with insurance plans for their health, auto, home and retirement.* And we continue to offer new products and ideas.

You can get more information just by calling your local Metropolitan Representative.

Thanks to University Relations and Student Development. Dean Joe Houston and Theresa Shephard deserve a special round of applause for acting as advisers and assisting the staff whenever a major problem (and there were many) arose. Also, Tom Butler should be recognized for letting the photographers work in the darkroom on weekends. Bob Donnelly, our Herff Jones representative, deserves a Congressional Medal of Honor for working above and beyond the call of duty.
